FRIENDSHIP

No 14—5th September 2017

Dear Parents and Caregivers

A huge thank you to Mrs Campbell and her helpers for a very successful faction carnival. All the students tried their best and should be proud of themselves even if they didn't win a medal or ribbon. Thank you to our wonderful P&C for ensuring our community were well fed and to our parents for supporting us with cakes and other baked goods.

Now we move on to the interschool. Details can be found further into this newsletter.

This week is book week, the best week of the school calendar. Escape to everywhere is the national theme. I am sure you have noticed our classroom doors decorated in the theme, our staff is amazing. If you haven't seen them yet please take the time to have a wander and see how clever and creative our students and staff really are.

We have story time happening, a book character parade after the assembly on Thursday and the book fair being held in the library all week. Miss Margaret has a special book week lunch planned for Thursday.

Don't forget the P&C AGM will be held next Wednesday night 13th September, all welcome. Meeting commences at 7pm in the staff room. It is still not too late to nominate for the any of the executive positions, please call in to the front office if you are interested.

We are currently taking enrolments for 2018, should your children not be returning to our school next year we would appreciate being advised as early as possible.

The School Council have approved the booklists for 2018 and our voluntary contributions so this information will be sent home to parents early next term. We will have a special day where you can pay cash for your booklist orders, date to be advised.

Last Thursday evening I had the pleasure of watching our choir perform at the Crown complex, what little stars they are. The behaviour of the students was exemplary and their performance a joy to watch. For the families that were able to come along I am sure they will join me in congratulating, not only the students, but Mr Zanatta for their hard work and dedication to putting on a fabulous performance and a thank you to Mrs D'Agostino and Mrs Michie for their assistance with dressing on the night. Well done!

The lapathon fundraising planned for our Bali school has been postponed until next term, more information will come out in due course.

After having a very successful career spanning more than 40 years, Miss Cathy Kelly has decided to retire. We wish Cathy a long and happy retirement and thank her for her dedication to her many students over the journey. Ms Emily Horton will continue teaching room 2 year one students for the remainder of the year.
